Eligible candidates from the merit list of NCHM JEE, in order to participate in the Counselling process, will have to register & pay a one-time non-refundable registration fees of Rs 2,000 in the counselling portal.

3.9.2 First Round

- (a) The registered candidates will select their preferred institutes in the first round as per the schedule. Candidates may choose one or more institutes. Each candidate must fill in their choices carefully and only select those institutes they are willing to join. Seats will be allotted based on the candidate's NCHM JEE All India Rank, reservation category, and the preferences of the institutes chosen through the online system.
- (b) Candidates who are allotted a seat in the first round, based on their preferences, may confirm the seat by paying the Seat Acceptance Fee (SAF) of Rs. 20,000/- and uploading the required documents for online Document Verification at the Document Verification Centre (DVC). The SAF of Rs. 20,000/- is part of the first semester fee and will be transferred to the finally allotted institute.
- (c) Candidates who are allotted a seat in the first round but do not deposit the Seat Acceptance Fee within the counseling schedule for the first round will have their allotted seat automatically canceled. These candidates will then be eligible to participate in the subsequent rounds against the available vacant seats.
- (d) Those who are allotted a seat in the first round, have accepted the seat by following the formalities mentioned in (b) above, and are interested in upgrading their choice of institute in subsequent rounds should opt for the "floating" option and not the "freeze" option. Candidates who opt for the "freeze" option for the allotted seat in the First round will not be able to participate in subsequent rounds.
- (e) A candidate who has completed the formalities with the "floating" option may revise their choice of institutes in subsequent rounds. If a candidate is allotted a seat in the first round in an institute other than their first choice and has opted for the "floating" option for the next round, but does not revise their choices, the allotment in the subsequent round will be considered only from the earlier choices and based on seat availability. In case of upgradation, the candidate is not required to deposit the SAF again or undergo further document verification. However, the fresh allotment letter must be downloaded for record-keeping. Once the allotment is upgraded, the claim to the earlier allotted seat will automatically be forfeited, and the candidate will have no claim to it.

- (f) Candidates who have deposited the Seat Acceptance Fee (SAF) in the first round of counselling but have not completed the document verification process for seat confirmation will have their allotted seat automatically cancelled. They will be eligible to participate in subsequent rounds, and the fees already deposited will be adjusted if they participate; otherwise, the amount will be refunded.
- (g) If a seat is allotted and the candidate does not meet the eligibility criteria, such as educational qualifications, age, etc., the allotted seat will be automatically cancelled. The Seat Acceptance Fee (SAF), if deposited, will be refunded.
- (h) If a candidate registered in the first round is allotted a seat but is unable to produce the 12th Pass Certificate during document verification, they may still be considered provisionally, provided they submit valid proof of having appeared in the examination conducted by a recognized board. In such cases, the candidate must submit a written undertaking declaring that they will produce the original 12th Pass Certificate to the allotted institute by 30th September of the admission year. If the candidate fails to submit the certificate by the specified date, or is placed in a compartment (i.e., has not passed one or more subjects and is required to reappear for them), the allotted seat will be automatically cancelled and the Seat Acceptance Fee will not be refunded.
- (i) If a candidate registered in the first round is allotted a seat based on the category under which they applied but is unable to produce the original category certificate during document verification, they may still be considered provisionally, provided they present sufficient supporting evidence of belonging to the same category. In such cases, the candidate must submit a written undertaking stating that the original category certificate will be submitted to the allotted institute by 30th September of the admission year. Failure to do so by the stipulated date will result in automatic cancellation of the allotted seat, and no refund of the Seat Acceptance Fee will be granted.
- (j) If a candidate registered in the first round and was allotted a seat based on the category they applied under but is found not to belong to that category during document verification, their category will be converted into General Category and their allotted seat will be cancelled. Now the candidate may participate in subsequent rounds of counselling under General category only.
- (k) If a candidate is allotted, accepts, and confirms a seat in the first round of counselling but withdraws the seat within the stipulated date through the online portal during the first round, both the seat and the counselling registration will be cancelled. Such a candidate will not be eligible to participate in subsequent rounds, except the Third (Final) round. However, the Seat Acceptance Fee (SAF) of Rs. 20,000, if deposited, will be adjusted in subsequent rounds.
- (l) If a seat is not allotted in this round, the candidate may participate in subsequent rounds, and the registration fee will be carried forward.
- (m) If candidates do not lock or freeze their seat, it will be treated as a floating option for subsequent rounds to allow for upgradation, subject to seat availability. Once the allotment is upgraded, the claim to the earlier seat will be automatically forfeited, and the candidate will no longer have any claim to the previously allotted seat.

3.9.3 Second Round

- (a) Candidates who have not registered or participated in earlier rounds of counselling can register by depositing the registration fee of Rs. 2,000 through the portal and participate in the second round of counselling for the available vacant seats.
- (b) Seat allotment in the second round will be conducted under the same conditions as those mentioned for the first round of counselling.
- (c) A candidate with a better rank (AIR of NCHM JEE) who did not participate in the first round of counselling will not have the right to claim a seat allotted to a lower-ranked candidate who participated and secured the seat on merit in the first round of counselling.
- (d) Before filling in their choices during the second round, candidates are advised to check the vacancy status of seats in the institutes after the first-round allotments on the portal.

- (e) Candidates who have opted for the floating option after accepting their first-round allotted seat will be allowed to participate in the second round for upgradation or choice modification and are not required to undergo the document verification process again. However, they must download the fresh allotment letter for their records. Once the allotment is upgraded, the claim to the earlier seat will be automatically forfeited, and the candidate will no longer have any claim to the previously allotted seat.
- (f) If a seat is not allotted in this round, the candidate may participate in third (final) round, and the registration fee will be carried forward.
- (g) If candidates do not lock or freeze their seat, it will be treated as a floating option for subsequent rounds, allowing for upgradation subject to seat availability. Once the allotment is upgraded, the claim to the earlier allotted seat will be automatically forfeited, and the candidate will have no further claim to that seat.
- (h) Candidates who are allotted a seat in the first or second round and wish to withdraw or surrender the allotted seat may do so only through the online mode on the counselling portal, and only before the commencement of registration for the Final Round. Withdrawals through manual submission, post, or email will not be accepted. Any withdrawal or surrender of seat after the specified deadline will result in forfeiture of the Seat Acceptance Fee (SAF).

3.9.4 Final Round of Counselling: -

- a. Candidates should note that the third round is the final round of counselling for admissions, and there will be no further rounds of counselling for seat allotment.
- b. Candidates who participated in earlier rounds, were allotted a seat, accepted it, and finalized the admission, but now wish to participate in the Final Round against available vacant seats, may do so. In case a seat is not allotted in this round, the earlier allotted seat will be retained. However, if the seat is upgraded in this round, the claim to the earlier seat will be automatically forfeited, and the candidate will have no further claim to the previously allotted seat.
- c. Candidates who have not registered or participated in the first or second rounds of counselling may register by depositing the registration fee of Rs. 2,000 through the portal. Since this is the Final Round and withdrawal is not permitted, candidates must also deposit the Seat Acceptance Fee (SAF) of Rs. 20,000 in order to access the choice-filling link for available vacant seats. The seat allotment process in this round will follow the same procedure as in previous rounds, except that withdrawal or surrender of the allotted seat will not be allowed.
- d. No withdrawal or surrender of seat and no refund will be permitted in or after this round.
